With its unmatched depth and wide range of features, there are dozens of benefits to using VISUAL COMPLIANCE™. Here are the five that our users have told us matter most to them.

1. Most Accurate Restricted/Denied Party Lists

If you've tried to screen names using the existing government search tools, you know how difficult and time-consuming it is. Visual Compliance™ makes it simple and straightforward, and helps to eliminate human error involved. eCustoms indexes dozens of lists and has a seasoned, full-time editorial and database staff making careful and timely daily updates, ensuring our data is always reliable. To date, our customers have made well over 100 million searches.

2. Clean, Easy-to-Learn User Interface

We've regularly refined the Visual Compliance™ user experience over the past decade, and today, our direct, easy-to-use, economical controls are unmatched among the competition. As Internet technologies have improved over the years, the technologies behind Visual Compliance™ have been improved with new features and ongoing upgrades and redevelopment. Protected with full-time high-bit security, we've kept pace with the latest web browser compatibilities. All of this created and maintained by our own certified software engineers.

3. Flexible Deployment Options

However you need or want to implement it, there's a Visual Compliance™ deployment that works for you. Any of our deployment options can standalone or work in concert:

- The Visual Compliance™ online application provides one-at-a-time screens for day-to-day checks;
- Fast integrated computer-to-computer queries are fully supported, returning text or XML results;
- One-time bulk processing from data-base generated lists or spreadsheets is available in a variety of arrangements;
- Continuous, daily screening against batch lists can also be implemented for regular monitoring.

In addition, user profile controls and user permissions systems allow you to control search standards and internal data exposures on a user, division, or company basis.

4. Value-Added Functionality

Screening names against lists is just the beginning. As your business needs change and adapt, the way you use Visual Compliance™ can also evolve. What about risk countries? Do you want to create your own, internal-use lists? Remote IP lookup? These functions and more are available and can be deployed from the beginning, or on the fly.
